

M'Dermott's Brothers Refuse to Aid Him in Fight TEMPORARY TAX RELIEF IS URGED

WILL TO SIGN AFFIDAVIT FOR VENUE CHANGE

Pat Pleads Warmly with Kin
To Declare He'll Not Get
"Fair Break"

DURAND IS PERTURBED

Defense Counsel Asserts That
"There's Something Rotten
About This Affair"

Courthouse, Canton, Dec. 8.— Judge E. W. Diehl, today overruled the motion of defense attorneys for a change of venue.
Court was then suspended until a week this afternoon.

Courthouse, Canton, Dec. 8.—Brothers of the late Patrick E. M'Dermott today refused to sign an affidavit insisting that the state has not given him a "fair break" and that he can not get special trial in Stark County.

Despite the fact that Pat would waive during the time he requested his brothers to join him, they turned a deaf ear, at least temporarily, to his fervent pleas.

Process Ordered

The defense had filed two affidavits
in support of their motion for a change of venue.

The court had reiterated with two brothers, alleging that Councilman C. B. McClintock that "could not and would not" get a fair trial in Stark County unless offered testimony against Louis Mazur and Ben Heller, the two other defendants in the M'Dermott case who are to be tried

Following the conversation, Bernard M'Dermott said that he would sign no affidavits.

"It's in a good mood today," he turned to page 5.

POWER MANUFACTURING CONFERENCE IS PLANNED

Men and Branch Managers of Local Concern
To Gather Here

All salesmen and branch managers of the Power Manufacturing Co. will attend a three-day conference to be held at the company's offices here on Dec.
10, 11 and 12, when business of the year will be reviewed and plans for the future and general management of the company discussed.

This is to be the first general conference of all the company's representatives since it was organized in 1924.
Each man and branch manager will be expected to bring with him a list of sales and a list of all the company's business in his territory. Some will be expected to bring a list of all the company's business in his territory. Some will be expected to bring a list of all the company's business in his territory.

McKINLEY'S BODY TO BE BE TAKEN TO CHAMPAIGN

Death of Illinois Senator Due to Prostatic Cancer, Say Doctors

Martinsville, Ind., Dec. 8.—Senator
William Brown McKinley of Illinois, 70, died at 4:10 p. m. yesterday.

Death was due to prostatic cancer,
but doctors had kept the nature of the malady from the senator during the six months of his illness. He was taken to Homelawn sanitarium here Aug. 18.

The body will be taken today to Champaign where funeral services will be held.

Senator McKinley was the third member of the senate to die this year.
Albert S. Cummings of Iowa, and Bert
M. Fernald of Maine were the others.

McKinley was one of the outstanding figures in the utility and education development of Illinois. He served one term as senator and 14 years in the house. He was to have gone out of the office next March. Col. Frank L. Smith, a Republican who defeated McKinley in the primary, will take the seat at that time.

Born in Petersburg, Ill., Sept. 5, 1856, the son of Rev. George McKinley, a Presbyterian minister, McKinley's first job was as a drug clerk at $1.50
a week. In the last 15 years, he gave nearly $15,000,000 for educational,
religious and public benevolent institutions.

FORMER SECRETARY OF NAVY GIVES TESTIMONY

Denby Declares He Asked Harding To Transfer Oil Administration

Washington, Dec. 8.—Edwin Denby,
former secretary of the navy, who resigned from office because of the "oil scandals," testified as a defense witness at the Fall-Doherty trial today that he had personally asked President Harding to issue the executive order transferring administration of naval oil reserves from the navy to the interior department.

Denby said he had been told that the reserves were suffering great loss
through drainage from adjoining fields.
"I was much worried about the situation," said Denby.

PAINLESS DINNER AT DENTAL MEET

Columbus, Dec. 8.—Educational clinics this morning, afternoon and "painless" dinner tonight featured today's program at the annual convention of the Ohio Dental Society at the Neil House.

The "painless" feature of the dinner, it was explained, will be the absence of speeches.

Dr. J. W. Hartshorn, Toledo, was elected president for 1928;
Dr. J. V. Gentilly, Cleveland, is president for 1927.

PLAN AIR EXPERIMENTS AT HEIGHT OF 25,000

Flight Surgeon Goes to 28,000 Feet Without Using Oxygen

Dayton, Dec. 8.—Willard Wright Field officials today expect a series of experiments will be made in the thin atmosphere at levels above 25,000 feet, following the flight to 28,000 feet by Capt. Charles T. C. Buckner, flight surgeon, and Capt. O. Perry, of the engineering department at the field without resorting to the use of oxygen.

Captain Buckner went up just to observe the human reaction to lack of oxygen. He counted his pulse several times but lost ability to count correctly
at 25,000 feet, became very weak and every movement was accompanied by an intense effort. Both Perry and Buckner also suffered from the intense cold.

Field officials did not announce the flight until last night, although it was made a few days ago.

GAS COMPANY ACTS TO ADVANCE HEARING DATE

Files Motion with State Utilities Commission; Copy Received Here

Copy of a motion filed by the Logan Gas Co. asking the State Utilities Commission to advance the date for resuming its hearing on protests filed by Marion and about 70 other Ohio cities against proposed gas rate increases was received today by City Solicitor Grant E. Mouser, Jr., who will direct the preparation of an answer in a short time.

The motion makes the charge that City Solicitors representing the protesting cities and villages have purposely contrived to delay the hearing, although "knowing that the present rates are inadequate."

This charge is vigorously denied by Mr. Mouser, who declares today that he and his associates in the fight have made a sincere effort at all times to obtain speedy action. He says that several months ago the gas company
was ordered by the utilities commission to submit additional data for a final hearing and that failure to comply with this order has been the cause of delay.

FIND WALSH GUILTY

Verdict in "Paper Box" Murder Returned After 19 Hours

Boston, Dec. 8.—Dr. Thomas E.
Walsh was found guilty of both conspiracy and illegal surgery in connection with the death of Miss Edith Louise Green, "paper box" victim.

The verdict was returned today after nearly 19 hours of deliberation. Sentence will be pronounced later.

Mrs. Walsh, a co-defendant, was acquitted.

The tragedy began last summer
with the finding of a girl's body in paper boxes.

PRICE-FIXING FARM SOLUTION, LOWDEN CLAIMS

Rural Civilization in Perilous State, Declares Former Gov- ernor of Illinois

OUTLINES PROGRAM

Political Observers See Virtual Announcement of Candi- dacy for President

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Frank O. Lowden, boomed as the farm candidate for president in 1928, today came out fully for price-fixing as a solution of the farm problem, on the heels of the president's warning against such a policy in his annual message to congress.

Speaking before the convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation,
the one-time Republican governor of Illinois scoffed at the "sacred cow" of fundamentalists, the law of supply and demand, citing the British rubber monopoly as an example of how stabilized
prices can aid an industry.

"Our rural civilization," said Low-den, "is in a perilous state. Our agriculture can not long survive the decay of its agriculture."

"It is evident that in the interest of the consumer as well as of the producer, we should find some means of stabilizing prices of farm products."

Lowden outlined his program for the relief of agriculture through price stabilization, by giving an example of how cotton cooperatives, with the assistance of the growers could take the surplus of the market and then fix a price at which to sell.

The long-threatened alliance between farmers of the South and West to force
congress to pass remedial legislation, known as a possible development at the closing session today. The controversial equalization fee, which split American agriculture at the last session in debate on the McNary-Haugen bill was reported approved by southern members of the resolutions committee,
which was preparing to throw its work
into the convention for approval.

Political observers saw in Lowden's speech a virtual announcement of his candidacy for president.

TAKES EVIDENCE

Utilities Commission Hears Direct Testimony in Phone Rate Case

Columbus, Dec. 8.—Attorneys for the state, at today's hearing before the State Utilities Commission relative to the statewide investigation of the telephone rate situation, are expected to begin introducing direct testimony in support of the state's side of the case.

Cross-examination by the state's attorneys of witnesses for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. is scheduled to be completed today.

Under direction of Attorney W. S.
McClintock, Dayton, special counsel for the attorney general, C. C. Cranley, state counsel is endeavoring to show that the testimony submitted by the Bell Co. in support of its valuation of $150,000,000 for its properties, for rate making purposes, contains alleged duplications and improper and crooked calculations.

SALEM RESISTS PLANS

New York, Dec. 8.—Overtures for a separation agreement were rejected by counsel for Count Ludwig Salva Von Hoogstraten, when his attorney announced the Count's plan to marry
Margaret, before Supreme Court Justice Aaron Levy today.

277 TAKE EXAMS TO PRACTICE LAW

Columbus, Dec. 8.—Of the 277
applicants for licenses to practice law in Ohio, who are taking the December state bar examination
here today, 16 are women.

The oldest applicant is Lewis A.
Sigrist, 60, retired teacher, of Lundee.

The minimum age limit is 21
years.

NATIONWIDE HUNT FOR YOUTH LIKELY, CLAIM

Move Considered in Attempt To Solve Disappearance of Carlton Virden

Should mystery surrounding the disappearance of Carlton Virden, 18,
of Miami, continue unsolved, there is probability that a nationwide search for him will be launched and that various means of communication, including radio, telephone and mail, will be used in an effort to find trace of the missing youth.

This was indicated today in information coming from city and county authorities who have been trying to solve the mystery, which young Virden disappeared last Thursday.

While Sheriff James A. Deal and Chief of Police James W. Thompson, who have been directing the investigation, still hold to the theory that the boy committed suicide and that his body
is in Crystal Lake, north of the city,
they feel that if search for the regular continues without results steps should be taken to follow other trails.

It is believed that the youth ran away and left a suicide note to cover up his tracks
and all current, although none appear to have substantial foundation. It is believed that he actually is alive he could be found eventually by broadcasting a description of him throughout the country.

M. A. Virden, of near Mosker, guardian of the youth, stated yesterday
that he is determined to use every possible means to clear up the mystery.
There is possibility, he indicated, that he may offer a reward and also that a diver may be employed to explore Crystal Lake in search of the body.

Work at the lake continues at a standstill today, however, due to the fact that ice covers most of the surface.

BILL TO TAKE U. S. OUT OF COURT CAUSES ALARM

Irreconcilable Bloc Hopes To Keep Resolution Before Sen- ate This Session

Washington, Dec. 8.—The Trammell
resolution, proposing to take America out of the World Court before she actually becomes a member, today promised to become a thorn in the side of the administration.

While Republican leaders hope to bury the resolution in some committee, the irreconcilable bloc, members of which are constantly being renewed, probably will be referred to the senate foreign relations committee, of which Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho—staunch irreconcilable, is chairman.

"I don't ask for immediate action,"
said Senator Trammell, Democrat, of Florida, his author, "but I shall demand a vote on it at the present session."

Trammell, who voted for adherence to the court, changed his mind during the recess of congress. A half dozen other senators underwent a similar change of sentiment.

DRY ARMY MANNED

No Additional Personnel Needed; Appropriation Committee Says

Washington, Dec. 8.—America's dry
army is adequately manned and no additional personnel is needed, the house appropriations committee reported today in presenting the $82,896,968
treasury and postoffice departments supply bill, of which $27,341,905 goes for prohibition enforcement.

"Statements made to the committee
are to the effect that the present prohibition forces are approximately as large as they should be and that in another year the country should have
and less expensive organization," said
the report.

CITY SOLICITOR NAMED SPECIAL AIDE TO TURNER

Will Close Term as Attorney for Marion on Jan. 5

SUCCESSOR NOT NAMED

Appointed by Attorney General- Elect; Will Continue Gas Fight

City Solicitor Grant E. Mouser, Jr., has accepted appointment as special counsel in the office of the attorney general of Ohio and will close his term
of service as a municipal official here
on Jan. 5.

Announcement of his decision to enter
the state service was made by Mr.
Mouser today after having deliberated
on the matter since three weeks ago,
when offer of the position came from Edward C. Turner, Columbus lawyer who was elected attorney general last month.

The City Solicitor's resignation will be submitted to City Council at its meeting next Monday night with the request that it be made effective on Jan. 5. He will begin his duties with the state when Mr. Turner takes office on Jan. 10.

In accepting the appointment, Mr.
Mouser insisted upon being granted the privilege of continuing his work in connection with the campaign that he and other City Solicitors have been conducting against increased gas and telephone rates. This concession was granted by Mr. Turner and as a consequence Mr. Mouser will remain as one of the leaders in the fight against the contested rates.

To Aid City

It will be glad to serve the people of Marion without compensation in these times unless until they are finally decided, provided counsel associated with him in the work are desirous of retaining his services," the City Solicitor stated today.

"I have accepted this position with the state because I feel that it gives me an opportunity for greater public service," Mr. Mouser said.

In his work as special counsel for the attorney general, he will be placed in charge of important, investigations
which he will extend into various fields.
The position is one which in the past has been assigned almost invariably to lawyers much older than Mr. Mouser.

PROTESTS FUNDS FOR JOHN COOLIDGE GUARD

Tennessee Congressman At- tacks Payment of $3,700 to Colonel Starling

Washington, Dec. 8.—A protest against the expenditure of government
funds to maintain a secret service man
with John Coolidge, son of the president, a student at Amherst, was made by Representative Byrne, Democrat, of Tennessee, during hearings on the treasury and postoffice appropriations bill,
which was laid before the house today.

Col. Ed. Starling, assigned to guard young Coolidge, draws $3,700 annually
and 100 per day allowances.

"I doubt the wisdom of detaining a man paid out of the funds of the treasury to act as a companion to the son of the president," said Byrne. "I think that is going too far."

Byrne has frequently attacked alleged
"White House extravagance."

HOW 1928 APPROPRIATION COMPARES WITH LAST YEAR

Department or Bureau	1928 Appropriation	1927 Comparison
White House	$438,400	Increase $10,000

Smaller offices, bureaus and commissions make up the balance of the budget of $1,011,571,721.00, which includes the postoffice, whose appropriation is payable from postal revenues.

CREDIT OR CUT ON PAYMENTS IS SUGGESTED

President Sends Budget to Congress; Points to Present Prosperity

PRUNING KNIFE USED

Surplus This Year Estimated at Nearly $400,000,000 by Chief Executive

Washington, Dec. 8.—President Coolidge, in transmitting the budget to congress today, urged congress not to meddle at this session with permanent tax revision.

Although America is enjoying phenomenal prosperity in almost all industries, a condition which he attributed in large measure to three abundant tax cuts in the last five years,
the president said there was no surety
that the treasury's condition in the immediate future would warrant a diminution of revenues which comes from the taxpayers' pockets.

"The estimated surplus this year of nearly $400,000,000 does warrant temporary tax relief and the temporary proposal that this should be accomplished
by allowing a reduction, or a credit, on the next March and June quarterly payments. Such a plan, he said, would be fair because it would leave the money in the hands of the taxpayers.
He placed squarely before congress the question of determining the amount of temporary relief.

Pruning Knife Used

The budget bore evidence of slashing
the pruning knife all along the line.
The total estimated expenditures for
the 1928 fiscal year, including expansion of public debt, but excluding expenditures of the postal service, were $3,772,000,214, a decrease of $71,652,
370 from the 1927 estimate, and $12, 905,000,500 below what actually was spent in 1926.

Estimated receipts for 1928 were $3, 772,753,077, thus showing an estimated surplus in 1928 of $200,752,863. The estimated surplus for this fiscal year was $283,970,005. The actual surplus in 1926 was $277,707,810.01.

The 1928 surplus will be cut almost in half from the present one because the treasury will have less of returns from taxpayers heretofore expended. In the last five years, these returns, such as loans to the railroads during the year, have aggregated $350,000,000. In addition there has been received $400, 000,000 for income taxes for past years in excess of refunds. These items are now closed and for 1928 it was estimated that the income from such items
will be less than $50,000,000.

Other Reasons

Aside from these losses there are other potent reasons why the present tax law should not now be tampered with, the president said. The present act has been in effect but nine months,
and the reduction in miscellaneous taxes has not yet been fully reflected in revenues.

"We had too short an experience
with the new law to permit an intelligent reduction of tax rates," he explained. "With the experience of another year's test of the revenue act of 1926, and with a more accurate knowledge which the year will give of what the future has in store for a continuance of our prosperity, we can determine what our permanent policy of taxation should be."

As much of the surplus as possible
should be applied to reducing the national debt of nearly $10,000,000,000,
Mr. Coolidge said. A decrease in the interest on this single item, before the most drastic subject for permanent reduction of governmental expenditure,"
he added.

Army-Navy Budget

The budget recommended $274,000, 000 for strictly military purposes for the war and navy departments. The president said that this was a considerable saving.

LAUNCH SEARCH FOR OLSON IN JACKSONVILLE

Request for Money by Telegraph Starts Action in Florida City

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 8.—A search for Erdman Olson, of Prairie Du Chien, Wis., wanted there in connection with the death of his sweetheart, Clara Olson, 22, was launched by police here today.

following receipt of reports that he may be in Jacksonville.

The search was begun when police here received reports that a man living the name of P. S. Downing had wired from Jacksonville to Olson's father asking him to send $1,000 here for which he would call at a local telegraph office today.

ATTORNEY QUIZZED AT CHARLESTON

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 8.—James H. Bowman, an attorney, was questioned by police here today in the belief that he may know something of the whereabouts of Erdman Olson, wanted in connection with the slaying of Clara Olson, his sweetheart, in Prairie Du Chien, Wis. Bowman, who late yesterday wired Mervin Helgeson, of Mt. Sterling, a local hotel yesterday and sent numerous telegrams.

City Officials Solve "Poisoned Orange" Mystery By Eating "Evidence" of Plot

A "poisoned orange mystery" which developed in Marion recently was solved when two city officials ate the oranges.

Thereby, as might naturally be presumed, hangs a tale. The principal characters in the story, which appeared to be one of tragedy at the outset but speedily changed to comedy, declared his telegram was a personal matter and had nothing to do with Olson. He is said to have wired Helgeson for money.

YOUTH HELD IN GEORGIA JAIL

Alma, Ga., Dec. 8.—A man giving the name of John Plinius, was held in the Marion County jail here today in the belief that he may be Erdman Olson, alleged slayer of Clara Olson, his 22-year-old sweetheart.

Police said the man bears a distinct resemblance to Olson. He is 18 or 19 years old, is five and one-half feet tall, has a scar above the right eye and has brown hair.

The youth denies he is Olson, declaring he came here from Miami. He was working on the Meana farm here when arrested on a blanket charge. Sheriff Walter Johnson has wired Wisconsin authorities of the arrest and is waiting instructions.

ERIE MAN HURT

TWO MEN ARE FINED ON INTOXICATION CHARGES

Thomas Ralston, 27, of 276 Locust, pleaded guilty, when arraigned before Mayor Earl M. Hazen yesterday on a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct and was fined $30. Ralston was arrested about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning on Park-bleed, where he was reported to be creating a disturbance.

Beecher Williams, 28, pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge and was fined $20.

Neither Ralston or Williams was able to pay and both were taken to the County Jail.

William Sosey of Prospect, who underwent a minor operation in City Hospital Saturday, was removed to the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Sosey, 282 Silver-st, yesterday in the H. Schaffner Co. invalid car. His condition is reported fair today.

G. W. JOHNSON FUNERAL

Funeral services for George W. Johnson, who died Tuesday at his home, 472 E. George-st, will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home, in charge of Rev. C. A. Lang of Culver, Ind., formerly pastor of the Greenwood Evangelical Church of this city. Burial will be made in Marion Cemetery.

clear up the mystery completely. That the oranges contained no poison is evident from the fact that both Gruber and Tobin are still on the job and never felt better in their lives.

And although they declare that they never ate oranges more delicious than those that are other officials at the City Hall who declare that Tobin and Gruber are entitled to a place in history with the man who ate the first orange.

Later investigation by Health Department officials disclosed that the woman in the case was mentally unbalanced and that her fears of poisoning were entirely the consequence of hallucination.

Public officials frequently receive peculiar summons and requests which often come with startling abruptness. As a consequence, it takes something decidedly out of the ordinary to startle them and it was a message of that class which came to Inspector Tobin over the telephone about two weeks ago.

"I wish you would come to my house at once," was the request which came in a tremulous feminine voice. "My husband is trying to poison me and I think that something ought to be done about it."

Convinced that a situation of that sort actually did demand official attention and that no husband is entitled to the privilege of feeding his wife poison, Mr. Tobin responded to the call.

In order that the case might be thoroughly and scientifically investigated, he enlisted the assistance of Mr. Gruber, both officials going to the scene of the supposed death plot.

It was a weird and uncanny story that was revealed to Inspectors Tobin and Gruber by the perturbed housewife. She related that her health was being gradually undermined and that she was positive it was the result of deadly ingredients being placed in her food.

The purpose of this evil process, she declared, was to get her out of the way so that the husband and his people might get possession of her property.

There were indications that the woman's mental equilibrium was not absolutely perfect. Pretending to take her story seriously, however, Tobin and Gruber listened attentively and assuring her that they would investigate thoroughly asked for samples of the food which she thought contained poison.

Without hesitancy, she gave them several oranges suspected of being tainted with the deadly ingredients. Taking the fruit to their offices, Gruber and Tobin inspected carefully and for a time were at a loss to decide upon a proper method of procedure. Examination of one of the oranges finally convinced Dr. Gruber that the woman's fears were unfounded and then both he and Tobin agreed that there was only one way to remove all doubt. That was to test the fruit by eating it.

The test was satisfactory and

cleared up the mystery completely.

Convinced that a situation of that sort actually did demand official attention and that no husband is entitled to the privilege of feeding his wife poison, Mr. Tobin responded to the call.

In order that the case might be thoroughly and scientifically investigated, he enlisted the assistance of Mr. Gruber, both officials going to the scene of the supposed death plot.

It was a weird and uncanny story that was revealed to Inspectors Tobin and Gruber by the perturbed housewife. She related that her health was being gradually undermined and that she was positive it was the result of deadly ingredients being placed in her food.

The purpose of this evil process, she declared, was to get her out of the way so that the husband and his people might get possession of her property.

There were indications that the woman's mental equilibrium was not absolutely perfect. Pretending to take her story seriously, however, Tobin and Gruber listened attentively and assuring her that they would investigate thoroughly asked for samples of the food which she thought contained poison.

Without hesitancy, she gave them several oranges suspected of being tainted with the deadly ingredients. Taking the fruit to their offices, Gruber and Tobin inspected carefully and for a time were at a loss to decide upon a proper method of procedure. Examination of one of the oranges finally convinced Dr. Gruber that the woman's fears were unfounded and then both he and Tobin agreed that there was only one way to remove all doubt. That was to test the fruit by eating it.

The test was satisfactory and

cleared up the mystery completely.

Public officials frequently receive peculiar summons and requests which often come with startling abruptness. As a consequence, it takes something decidedly out of the ordinary to startle them and it was a message of that class which came to Inspector Tobin over the telephone about two weeks ago.

"I wish you would come to my house at once," was the request which came in a tremulous feminine voice. "My husband is trying to poison me and I think that something ought to be done about it."

A Revival of the Big Four.

The indications of the unpopularity of American participation in the World court, to say nothing of the feeling toward the League of Nations, have been multiplying rapidly of late.
There can be no question but what the appeal of the World court has weakened decidedly during the past twelve months. Champions of the court and of entrance into the League of Nations—the internationalists and others who place the welfare of the outside world above
that of their own land of America—may express the contrary view, but they should not,
if they have kept in touch with the members of the senate who have gone down in defeat chiefly as a result of their prominence in the championing of entrance into the court.

We believe it is safe to say that the great majority of the people of the United States are opposed to entrance into the League of Nations or its child, the World court. More than that, we believe that the leading nations of Europe are as heartily sick of it as we are over here. We have seen the league scorned in various matters by Great Britain and by Italy. We have seen France go over it in matters which she took to affect her national honor. And now we see indications that the great powers—so-called—of western Europe
are considering a league which will be above and beyond the Geneva body. Just at present, Great Britain is a bit backward concerning the newly proposed concert of powers, but there is every indication that another "Big Four"
similar to that which wielded supreme power
during the conference of 1919 will soon be in existence to dwarf the present league, the difference being that Germany will be substituted for the United States in the new one.
The League of Nations may pass muster for the smaller, less important of the nations committed to constitutional government, but Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany are considering a league of their own.

The League of Nations has been a child of misfortune from the time of its birth. It had a wonderful christening, but its glory departed with the christening and it has been growing weaker and more anaemic ever since. It is clinging to life by a thread, and now Great Britain, France and Italy—none of them wanted it; they accepted it only to gain their ends—want to sever the thread and await only opportunity and excuse to do so.

Deporting Undesirable Aliens.

Since the recent publication of the annual report of Secretary of Labor Davis for the year ended June 30, 1926, we have had a feeling that we have been unjust to his department;
not unjust in utterance, but rather unjust in our appreciation of its accomplishments and in our failure to pay it the tribute which his report shows is its due.

Secretary Davis' report carries a lot of information of interest, among other matters being his figures on immigration and emigration
for the year, which show that our alien population was increased in the twelve-month period by 255,351. The total of arrivals was 456,166, a total somewhat in excess of that of the preceding year, and those departing numbered 227,755. The secretary dwells at some length on the quality of the inflow, which he says shows a great improvement over that of recent preceding years, both as to ages and physical and mental qualities, and goes into many details. But the matter which carried the greatest surprise to us and caused us to revise our opinion of the department's efforts was Mr. Davis' statement regarding the deportation of undesirable aliens.

All of us have seen news items from time to time regarding the rounding up of alien Communists, Bolsheviks, agitators and undesirables generally, but the figures offered in connection with such actions were not overly impressive. We knew that here and there small numbers of these undesirable had been taken into custody, but we rarely saw where they had been deported, and we imagined,
whatever may have been the impression upon
our readers, that their arrests may have resulted like the great majority of those made in recent years, where this criminal or that has been placed under arrest and for one reason or another, or through one technicality or another, escaped the punishment he deserved.

Judge of our surprise then when we read the secretary's report showing that 10,901 aliens had been deported, 1,409 more than during the preceding year, the report of which had escaped
our attention. Speaking of these deportations, Secretary Davis says:

"The aim of the department is to deport
every alien whose departure the law requires.
At the same time we try to bear in mind that the most urgent of deportations should be first effected and that the most urgent cases are those of aliens whose presence in the United States is inimical to our best interests. This includes aliens who have become public charges
and aliens who have served terms in our jails
and penitentiaries and feeble-minded and insane aliens, who are likewise a drain upon our institutions and our national stamina."

Our impression had been that these deportations possibly ran high into the hundreds or at the utmost, low into the thousands. To find that practically 11,000 aliens had been deported during a period of twelve months was indeed a surprise, and a welcome one, to us.
It gives us a new impression of the value of the department of labor in this direction, an impression which we should have attained long since had we given the subject the study it deserves. As we have said, we have placed a new valuation on the department of labor in this connection. If it had no other accomplishment—and it has many—this work it is doing to rid the land of aliens undesirable for any cause entitles it to commendation and respect. This work alone would justify the existence of the department.

DOUBLE HARNESS.

Dieting Leads to Tuberculosis.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Gay life and a slender figure are said to be responsible for the steady increase of tuberculosis
among girls and young women.

This is the opinion of Dr. Alice Asserson, of the New York Tuberculosis and Health association.
She thinks the modern flapper and her immediate seniors are in serious danger of this disease. To prove it she statistics of the New York health department are quoted.

"The tuberculosis death rate
among girls between fifteen and nineteen years of age in 1927 out of 100,000. Between twenty and twenty-five years, it is 370. These are very high rates.

Dr. Asserson comments on these figures and gives her explanation of the cause. I quote:
"The fashion of the day demands slender, graceful lines, and no girl wants to be out of fashion.
Many girls, therefore, deny themselves nourishing food because they are fearful of gaining weight. This applies to society and working girls alike. In the case of the working girl she is also apt to skimp on food, so that she will have more money to spend on pretty clothes."

"The desire for a good time leads them to burn the candle at both ends. They work all day—
perhaps in an office or factory, perhaps in school, or perhaps in a whirl of social duties—and with that they combine a nightlong round of pleasure that often lasts well into the morning hours."

"This is a dreadful arrangement of modern life.
Of course, it does not apply to the large majority of girls. But where it does fit, I have no doubt the doctor is right."

Growing girls and growing boys, and for that matter all the rest of us, must have plenty of sleep and rest. Without these restorative blessings health is sure to be undermined.

Nobody can have good health, or possess effective powers of resistance to disease without nourishing food and enough of it. To skimp on food is to fatten the undertaker.

Most of us eat too much, but it is just as bad to eat too little. Good sense must be used in the choice and quantity of food consumed.

Tuberculosis is entirely unnecessary. The right manner of living is all the protection needed to guard against it. Let us think about the relation of sleep, food, exercise and fresh air to long life. Without them in abundance, life will be shortened. With them, there is every prospect of living to be a hundred.

seem to contract at times. Is this a good sign and is there any hope of bringing back the life and cir-

M. A. L. Q.—What do you advise for pimples and oily skin?

A.—Correct the diet, by cutting down on sugar,
starches and coffee. Eat simple food.—Copyright,

Citizens May Refuse To Fight.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

A striking illustration of the evil propaganda at work to undo all that this country has achieved in almost a century and a half of political and industrial disturbance is presented in a report recently adopted by a group of women delegates to the seventh annual convention of the New York League of Women Voters at a meeting conducted by Mrs. Carter, state chairman of International Cooperation.

International—international—it is dimmed day in and day out into the ears of American citizens.

The view here proclaimed by these women
"citizens" of the United States is that a good citizen may refuse to support a war by the government.

The rest of the program follows naturally.
These very patriotic ladies, of the dumb-bell persuasion, are in favor of "immediate discon-tinuation of the reserve officers' training corps units in colleges." They denied that "the finest type of patriot is the soldier," favored joining the League of Nations, and all the rest of the "international" twaddle.

How much of this virus has infected the citizenship of Cincinnati? How much of it has found its way into the city's pulpits. Into the women's clubs, into the schools and university?
How far here does the privilege of free speech tend to aid and extend the foundations of those who advocate existing conditions? What is your neighbor saying about these things?
How much of "international" sentiment have
we in the Queen City of the West—long known as the most American city on the continent?
Have we public servants and teachers who have become enamored of the illusions of Socialism
and who still remain willing to accept a wage paid by an authority founded on the bedrock precepts of democracy?

It is time these things were known. Mexico has joined Moscow. Mexico is a very near neighbor to the United States. A revealing analysis of the press of the country discloses that the southern republic has many active friends in this "capitalistic" commonwealth.

Are the skirts of Cincinnati in this respect
clean? It were well that we should know.

IN ROCKEN CATHEDRAL.

The nave is cool and still, almost deserted—
My footsteps echo through the vast, dim place.
Where shafts of jeweled light from ancient windows

Fall on stonework carvings delicate as lace.
Beside the box that holds the long, slim candles,
A woman sits, no longer young and fair,
Vending the waxen tapers for the altar.

Which glimmer softly, each pale flame of prayer.
She dozes in her chair—I see her nodding
Beside her box of candles in the gloom,
As far removed from all the rush of living
As a stone figure carved upon a tomb.

Her black gown blends with shadows of the pillars.
And the pale flame of candles on her face
Reveals and softens lines of age and living.
And gives to her an almost saintly grace.

Not a hard lot, when one is old and feeble.
To doze and dream in the warm scented air
Of ancient shrines, and sell the waxen tapers
That flicker softly like the breath of prayer!

—Blanche A. Sawyer.

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. Was last summer's apple crop larger than usual? G. A.

A. The crop was estimated at 231,252,000 bushels. While in but a few states the crop was very heavy, production was above the average in nearly all sections, and the crop was the largest in a dozen years.

Q. Does a copper wire made of a number of small strands have a greater or smaller electrical carrying capacity than a solid wire? J. A. X.

A. The burden of standards says that a stranded wire has less carrying capacity than a solid wire of the same material having the same circumference. A stranded wire offers more resistance per foot than does a solid wire having
the same circumference.

Q. What bird is known as the October-bird?
W. P.

A. In the West Indies the name is applied to the bobolink.

Q. How far is a league? M. T. W.

A. Its length varies in different countries.
The Roman league was 1,370 modern English miles, while the league brought to England by the Normans was equal to 2.9 modern English miles. The metric league is four kilometers. At present the league is a nautical measure equal to the twentieth part of a degree, that is, three geographical miles, or 3,457 statute miles.

An efficiency agent of some kind or other says modern men work too hard and should have two vacations a year, of at least a month each. Better than that is to have work that interests you so much and that you like so well that you don't need even one vacation.
And if you insist on a vacation you will probably get just as much good out of it if it is just some other kind of work.

Dr. R. G. Reynolds, Columbia university, knows his business when he says parents need to be educated as well as pupils. They ought to be taught to appreciate higher educational standards. Lack of sympathy on the part of parents with what the schools are trying to do is one of the big handicaps in the effort toward the spread of education. Teachers, to do good work, need the sympathy and understanding of parents. Many parents are out of sympathy with what the schools are trying to do.
The best that can be said for most parents is that they are indifferent.

Real tolerance can not be based on mere goodwill. To feel tolerant toward a man of another creed does not mean much if you are simply tolerant because you like him.
Real tolerance must be based on an actual respect, on your part, for the other man's honest convictions. It must be based on your belief that the other man is sincere in his convictions.
Any other attitude, no matter how kindly, is mere blarney.

There is a difference between parental guidance and parental goading. Keeping after a child every other hour to find out where he has been, what he is doing and what he is going to do may not be intelligent guidance.
A parent has something more to do than merely to insist on obedience. The child has a right to a set of parents who proceed on the basis of mutual trust.

When you hear that American wages are several times as much as European workmen receive you may think that mere figures mean nothing because of the cost of living. But we are still better off in this country than many realize. In the actual purchasing power of money, wages paid American laboring men are two and a half times as much as German laborers receive and more than three times as much as Polish, Italian or Belgian workmen get.

If there are some things that you forget to be thankful for on Thanksgiving, make up for your forgetfulness now by being glad you live in a land where more money is paid for honest
work than anywhere else on earth.

Q. What determines the hardness of the lead in pencils? H. H. C.

A. The amount of clay used. A special kind mined in Germany is used. For the soft lead, little clay is used, while for the hard pencil the proportion is greater.

TIMOTHY HOGAN SUCCUMBS AT COLUMBUS HOME

Former Attorney General's Death Follows Extended Illness: Well-Known Here

Columbus, Dec. 8.—Ohio today marks the passing of one of her prominent officers, former Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan.

An extended illness, due to pernicious anemia, culminated in the death of Mr. Hogan at his home here early this morning. He was 65 years of age.

Being active in many Ohioan campaigns in the Buckeye state, Mr. Hogan for many years, was prominently identified with cases pending in the courts and in the middle west, 11 years ago.

Two terms—four years—as at-timothy general of Ohio, beginning in 1910. His last contest for public office took place in 1914 when he was the unsuccessful democratic candidate against Warren G. Harding for U. S. senator from Ohio.

Born and reared in Jackson County, Ohio, Mr. Hogan graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1889, and taught school 14 years before being admitted to the bar in 1894. He began practice at Wellston.

STRICKEN ATTORNEY WELL KNOWN IN CITY

Timothy S. Hogan, former attorney general of Ohio, who died early today at his home in Columbus, was well known in Marion and had a large circle of friends in this city.

He often acted as attorney in suits heard in Marion County Common Pleas Court and visited friends here many times.

During the fight against the occupational tax several years ago, Mr. Hogan was retained by the Central Labor Union to represent that body in the fight against the tax.

Word of the Columbus attorney's death was received early today by Mrs. Henry D. Drake, 335 N. State-st., who, before her marriage, was employed as secretary to Mr. Hogan during his private law practice and while he filled the position of attorney general.

Mr. and Mrs. Drake and a number of members of the Marion County Bar are planning to attend the funeral services.

FORMER MARION YOUTH IN FRESHMAN GLEE CLUB

Recently Named Member of Body of Ohio State University

Arthur Smith, Mansfield, a former resident of Marion, now a student at Ohio State University, has recently been named as a member of the Freshmen Glee Club of that school.

Smith was selected as first tenor of the club, winning from 10 competitors for the position. He is a graduate of Mansfield High School class of 1920.

At Harding High School, of this city, in his sophomore and junior years, Smith was prominent in social and musical activities, taking part in "Porch Hounds," the high school glee club presentation in 1922.

Smith is a pledge to the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at Ohio State University.

WALTER SAGE ONE OF 15 ON WOOSTER CAGE SQUAD

Son of Fred M. Sage, Girard-Av. Earns Berth in Varsity Lineup

Walter Sage, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Sage, Girard-av. is one of the 15 members of the Wooster College basketball squad for the 1926-27 season.

Sage is a sophomore at the college and was a member of the Freshmen quintet last year. An injury at the start of the season, prevented Sage from winning his class numerals, however.

The local youth is a graduate of Harding High School, class of 1925. He was a member of the Senior inter-class basketball squad which won the school championship in 1925. He was also student manager of the varsity basketball squad.

Behind the Screen

WHEN Leo Maloney, Pathe's western star, rides his horse into the sunset at the final fadeout, little Joan Keene is usually at his side. In addition to being known as a "horse opera queen" (as western pictures are sometimes called), she sometimes is called Hollywood's most perfect bride.

Many prominent players began their film careers as the lovely heroine in westerns. True, they didn't get much of a chance to act since the spotlight was usually centered on the male star, but they did receive a good measure of valuable training. Expert horsemanship and physical fitness are essential in this type of picture, and actresses learn many stunts which stand them in good stead in later roles. Most of these girls play in four or five westerns, then some producer notices them and another pretty face is lost to the dramas of the great open spaces.

Mae Murray has had another fuss with her producers. She was expected to begin work on "Diamond Handcuffs," now that she has finished "Valencia." She glanced at the script and cast it—well, some say one place and others another. Anyhow, instead of reporting for work, Mae journeyed on a New York-bound train. When she returns a new story will await her.

"Potemkin," the Russian film which Douglas Fairbanks praised so highly on his return from abroad, is to be shown in New York shortly.

Dorothy Mackail and her director husband, Louis Mendes, must forego their honeymoon for at least two months since Dorothy has to finish her role in "The Song of the Dragon."

Pauline Garon (Mrs. Lowell Sherman) has been signed for a part in Gloria Swanson's "Sunray."

Mary Pickford never removes her wedding ring. In "Sparrows," in which she plays the part of a young girl, she wears a piece of cord over the ring to hide it.

Corinne Griffith's leading man in "Purple and Fine Lilies," until a few months ago was a bull fighter. He is Paul Ellis, born in Argentina and educated in Spain. After fighting in the bull rings of Seville, Cordoba and Barcelona he came to the United States a year ago and worked in several pictures. Then he took his matador's cape and beribboned darts into the bull rings of Peru and Uruguay. Just before returning to this country a short time ago he killed six bulls in Mexico City.

WENDELL B. FIDLER WINS HONORS AT OHIO STATE

Commended by School Officials
for His Mastery of Horse-

Wendell B. Fidler, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fidler, E. Center-st., a sophomore at Ohio State University, has been highly commended by the officers of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the school, for his mastery of horsemanship.

Fidler is a student in the Artillery Corps and was commended following corps practice recently. He was a cadet of the Infantry at University of Cincinnati last year.

At Harding High School, from which he graduated in the class of 1925, he was prominent in school activities.

AIMING TO DO

something has spoiled more opportunities, booting away more good trades, ruined more bright prospects, and killed more hopes dead in their tracks, than every other reason combined.

The aim to do, like the poor, is with us always, and 99 chances out of a possible hundred right now you are aiming to do something you will never do.

The unfortunate angle to the whole aiming game is that the lack of a little ready cash makes almost out of a lot of people who would otherwise become doers. They aim to buy their coat next week, but that new furniture in the spring, overhaul the automobile in the summer, have a new suit in the fall, when there is plenty of money to go all the way round. Of course that happy time comes not, and another aim is blasted.

Marion Clattel Lonn Co., 136 S. State-st., is the one best, unflinching cure for those who aim. By getting the money today you may do now what you had hoped to do far in the future. Adv.

NOMINATIONS SENT TO CONGRESS BY COOLIDGE

Washington, Dec. 8.—President Coolidge has transmitted to the senate a list of several thousand nominations for federal offices, nearly all of which were recess appointments made since the senate adjourned last July. Included in the nominations submitted today were: Collector of customs, Cleveland—Arthur P. Fenton.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Don't mix a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, and takes the place of mustard plasters.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

Solved the Problem

"I was almost distracted with stomach trouble, gas and colic attacks and didn't know what to do. I had tried everything I heard of, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend told me about Maye's, and it has solved the problem, as I can now eat anything and have no distress." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Living

THE BRIDE!

Loving

YOUTH may possess gold and silver and jewels rare, but unless it knows romance, it has yet found life all that life can offer. And all this it becomes to it as so much brass and tinkling cymbals.

For it is love that makes the world go round, and it is romance that sets the mighty force in motion.

How are youth and romance to meet? Where and when?

In loggia bathed in moonlight! By steamer rail in bright moonday sun! On cool woodland trail at break of dawn!

Who knows?

What matter details, so long as the meeting becomes a fait accompli? It is only when youth blindly, perhaps, willfully, passes romance by, that the kind gods veil their faces.

HOWEVER preliminaries differ, in essentials all that follows after is much the same.

First come the carefree days when man and maid find it pleasant enough merely to be together. Light banter, blithing laughter. Why take things seriously when life is such fun?

But fate takes revenge upon triflers. Less heedless times follow. The word spoken in idle jest takes on deeper meaning. Over nothing at all—just footsteps on the walk, flinging of telephone, peal of bell-breath catches in throat. Now ever behind the smile is the heart's truth. "He loves me—he loves me not."

Doubt assails hope until—

HEARTS are trumps, but at this stage of the game the wise lover leads with a diamond.

While the young man's fancy turns to love the older man's is concerned with more prosaic matters.

"Can you take care of my daughter?" Traditional fatherly and fearfully personal question.

"I'll do the best I can, sir. At least I can help your daughter to take care of herself. And she's welcome to all of my name if she'll take it."

Thus answers the modern suitor. And it is about what had expected. After all, it might be worse, and so he gives his consent and mothers adds her blessing.

A RARE day. Skies of azure. Sun shining as brightly as sun can. One house of all others with a festive air.

Gay aving stretching to the street! Wide doorway, invitingly open. Guests entering.

Within, a table laid with tempting viands, smilax trailing over snowy cloth, frosted cake in the center. Glittering array of treasure in a room apart.

Chattering laughter. Steps passing and re-passing up and down the winding stairway. Whiff of orange blossom.

Flashing chiffon, rainbow colored. Related, breathless bridesmaid. Suddenly an expectant hush.

Low sweet strains of music. Rapt attention.

"Here comes the bride!"

"And here comes the groom!"

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, romance without end. The prologue is over! The play is on!

Capacity Audience Heeds
Experimenter's Address

It. B. Ambrose, scientific experimenter and lecturer, presented one of the most entertaining as well as instructive numbers of the Senior Lecture Course program, last night at the Star Auditorium before a capacity audience.

One of his most interesting and well-received feats was that of a demonstration of up-to-date radio control. "Army" Ambrose, as he is known, stationed himself at the rear of the auditorium, and, by means of a spark-coiled radio outfit and bona fide radio waves ran a flag on the platform up a pole and illuminated a cluster of colored lights, also on the platform.

Among the other fascinating performances was the welding of two nails together by electricity with Mr. Ambrose permitting the high electrical current to pass through his body. In connection with the welding demonstration he formed an arc light by holding two carbons, one in each hand.

Mr. Ambrose is a fluent and entertaining speaker, told briefly the history of electricity from the time of Benjamin Franklin to the present day, touching upon the progress and of electricity and its influence upon humanity.

He especially emphasized his firm belief that "science is all God and not against God" and that "the controversy between science and religion is so long standing it is at an end." He based his conviction in the powers of the Almighty on the fact that, although he and other scientists might be performing almost supernatural feats with the aid of electricity, still they would never conceive God's power of creation. "No scientist, however great, ever produced a man," he concluded in a hushed whisper.

Mr. Ambrose, who had served in the capacity of radio operator and the world War and previous to that time had held the position of electrical engineer as a graduate of the University of Kansas, interspersed his lecture with observations and narratives from his own experience. Among other anecdotes he told of his receiving London, Eng., by radio, last year from his home in Kansas City, Mo., 6,000 miles away at the time when radio-broadcasting stations in the U. S. were still for the purpose of enabling receiving sets here to attempt to "tune in" on foreign stations.

Verifying his lecture on philosophy and urging his audience to interest children in one of the most interesting as well as essential phenomena of science he brought his talk to a close.

CHILD LIBRARIAN

Will Conduct Story Hour For Children at Library

Miss Mary Coleman, child librarian will conduct the story hour for children between the ages of six and at the library at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Dec. 18. It was announced today.

More than 50 little tots were in attendance at the story hour held Saturday at the library, over at Miss Helen Terry presided, entertaining with recitations of poetry as well as health and Christmas stories.

About Headache

Glendene, N. Y. Mrs. J. Schwab writes:—"My head was dizzy frequent intervals. My stomach upset and I was horribly constipated. I took Carter's Little Liver Pills and I soon noticed a decided improvement. It is months since I have had a headache or a stomach. Your pills have merited the constipated condition. I clean the intestines of their poisonous matter. They are so coated, small, and easy to swallow. Druggists, 25 & 75c red package."

CHAPTER XVI
"You must have a reckoning, come instead of his forcing you to see him. That is why I was so anxious to keep me from any one about it."
"I was waiting for him to speak. He said, 'I saw him speak first. I want to talk to you, young man.'"
"I wasn't a darn good sport I was fired out of here neck and heels."
"Don't look like a good sport to me, just the same."

Takes Lead

"I was always in demand—counted on to be the lead in the social or business circles. I was usually one who knew the ropes. I was a New York business girl, Miss M. J. Edinger, 102 Patcher Ave., New York, N. Y. She says: 'Black and White Beauty Cream is my 'first-aid' cream and I wouldn't think of leaving my face without a thin coat of this pure, snowy cream to protect my skin and keep it always soft, white and smooth. I love, too, the way it makes my face powder adhere so smoothly and beautifully.'"
"This lovely cream and the other Black and White Beauty Creations such as Creaming Cream, Cold Cream, Face Bleach, Face Powder, Talcum, are of supreme value and quality. They are the marvel of leading women of the East and West, as well as of the East and West."

COLORED THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medicine discovery with a powerful action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchitis, pneumonia and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. It is recommended if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

COMpletely CRIPPLED THIRTY-FIVE DAYS

Tried simple home treatment—now walks easily without cane

How the agonizing pain of an acute attack of rheumatism was eased, and recovery hastened is told in a letter from John Smith of Shock, Ky.

"I was taken with a pain in my left leg, and for thirty-five days I could not sit up," he writes. "I got no better until I began using Sloan's Liniment. Before I had used one bottle I could sit up, and now I can walk without a cane."

And it is amazing—the quick, genuine comfort that Sloan's gives. It doesn't just deaden the pain. It stirs up the body to throw off the cause.

No need to rub even. A little Sloan's rubbed on lightly—and a healing tide of fresh, germ-destroying blood begins tingling through the aching place. Before you can believe it, the pain, swelling and stiffness are relieved. Get a bottle today! All druggists—35 cents.

"I thought you were a dirty rat last night," said the man who cracked the door open. "Why, damn you," he exclaimed, and took a step forward. I drew off with a wary eye for his left lead, but he let his hand drop to his side.

"I can't strike a servant, certainly not on the Abbotts' grounds, but if you'll walk down to the beach and put up your hands I'll give you the beating of your life for that insult."

"This made me laugh in his face. I had no intention of going down on the beach and letting this fellow, with his boxing knowledge, cut me to ribbons. I had been lucky, last night, in getting under his guard and giving him a taste, but he would see I didn't do that again.

"My duties as chauffeur do not allow me to fight with the guests."

He gnashed his under lip with rage, then threatened viciously:

"I'll get you out here you can't get away, you sneaking coward, and if you breathe a word of what happened last night I'll have Abbott fire you and I'll see that you never get another job."

"Bunk."

"You'll see if it's bunk. I came down here to explain things, to slip you a ten-dollar bill, and tell you I wouldn't hold the dirty trick you played on me against you, which is damn decent for a guest to his host's chauffeur."

"Why, are you afraid I'll say something about it?"

"None of your business."

"You better see Helma and slip her your dirty money if she'll take it. I wouldn't be surprised if she had told Miss Abbott all about it by this time."

"She wouldn't dare, but you would. Who are you anyway? You're no regular chauffeur. More likely a burglar or a yegg, here to rob the place. I'll warn Mr. Abbott."

"Go to it," I sneered. "It happens I was born and brought up in these parts and the whole town knows all about me."

"Bah, you damn flunkie," he grunted. I turned my back on him and walked to the servants' dining room where breakfast was waiting.

Helma slipped up alongside of me and asked breathlessly:

"This he told you?"

"On the contrary, he was hanging around waiting for me to come out of the garage so he could bribe me to keep me out of his way."

"How much did he give you?"

I looked at her commiseratingly. Evidently she had the soul of a mental to suppose I would take money from the man.

"I told him to give his money to you since you were the person insulted. Would you take it?"

"Sure," she said with a smile. "I take all the money I get and put it in the bank. This man can lose me my job which is bad. Instead he is sorry and gives me money which is good. You are a fool."

"It's all in the point of view," I laughed. As I reached for a second helping of fried ham.

There was another interloper waiting for me when I left the dining room to return to the garage. Rose Abbott was in the flower garden along the edge of which I had to pass, and she called to me as I went by her.

"Morning, Jeeves. Would you mind pulling down this bush so I can cut off that big rose at the top?"

I went to her side to perform the service which gave her an opportunity to look me over. I had two nasty cuts on my cheek, a blue spot under my left eye, and one or two other evidences of the fracas of the night before. Anderson, confound him, hadn't a mark because I was not able to lay my fist on him save when we were rolling on the ground and even then I had not damaged his face.

"We do not allow our servants to fight, Jeeves," said Rose quietly.

I colored furiously but made no reply.

"Who were you fighting with?"

"What I do on my time off is my affair, Miss Abbott."

"Yes, but this disreputable appearance is being worn on working time. We like our servants to be free from black eyes and cuts and bruises."

"Yes, miss."

"Did you win the fight?"

I grinned a little. "I rather think I did."

"Where did it take place?"

"Over at Brownsville Pavilion."

"What, really dance hall, I am surprised, Jeeves, that you should go to such a place."

"I won't go again," I promised.

"I suppose you took Helma with you?"

"Is it fair to quiz me like this?" I demanded.

"Probably not. Did you have Helma with you?"

"I'll find out from Helma."

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

THERE is nothing which is so tense, so embarrassing as the silence which falls between a man and a woman, who, alone together, find creeping over them the memories of past chapters in their lives which they cannot forget even if they wish to.

For several minutes after Hugh had seated himself beside me upon the bench by the stream in the grove where we had been served with luncheon, he spoke no word, nor did I. It was as if with common consent we gave up the futile struggle of keeping up conversation talk when there was something vital between us which must be thrashed out before we parted.

This feeling that there were things which must be settled between us had been growing upon me ever since Hugh's outburst against the news that I was in Philip Veritson's employ. Temporarily he had been silenced by my resentment of his strictures, and he had been forced to beg my pardon.

I had felt at the time that his agreement was but a temporary truce, and that before our afternoon together was over, I should hear things from the lips of my old and true friend which it would need all my wits to manage.

But for a long time after we sat down upon the bench, he spoke no word at all, and presently I felt myself tense in the nervous wonder as to what he meant to say, that I could not endure the inaction, and resolved to make conversation of some sort.

There was one topic which seemed safe and I chose it, although with trepidation at the sound of my own voice.

"Do you know I haven't thanked you for the wonderful things you sent me from China," I said trying to make my voice controlled, but conscious that it held a distinct tremor. "I never held a distinct tremor, I never dreamed that there could be such lovely things anywhere, and I have enjoyed their possession so much. It was wonderful of you to send them to me, but really I ought to send you instead of thanking you."

He made me no answer for a long minute. Then he sprang to his feet, towering over me.

"What do you imagine I am?" he demanded hoarsely. "A stick or a stone, that I can sit quietly and hear you talking like that to me. Thanks from you for a few paltry curios. Don't you know that if I could I would lavish on you all these things?"

"Oh!" I gasped. "You mustn't—you know you mustn't talk like that."

"There was genuine shock in my face, for there was something wild in his manner which never had been there, and I had the queer feeling that unwittingly I had unleashed something wild, which it would be exceedingly difficult to tether again."

"I should have agreed with you yesterday," he said slowly, "but what I have seen this afternoon—"

He broke off abruptly, looked down at me steadily for a few seconds, while into his eyes flamed a determination I never had seen there before. Then he reached down his hands, grasped mine and pulled me up facing him.

"Let me tell you this," he said: "If you leave your husband, you're coming to me, not to any other man."

Patsy's Patter

Gossip and Guesses in the World of Sport

By Pat Murphy

THE Cleveland managerial situation, being the only one in the big leagues that has not been filled, is furnishing a great deal of fun for the guessers. Tuesday's early morning wires carried the story of Jack McCallister's appointment to succeed Trip Speaker. Later in the day the same wires carried a denial of his appointment, and a statement by President Brannan that the manager will be named after his return to Cleveland, and not before. The president of the Indians is now attending the meeting of minor league at Asheville, N. C. McCallister, George Burns, Eddie Collins and Hugh Jennings, among others, have been rumored as sure to land the job vacated by the Great Fox. But as yet none of them have been named.

In the same town where the present meeting is being held is a baseball team managed by Larry Gardner, old Red Sox and Cleveland third baseman. The owners of the team are well satisfied with Larry's management, and he has been able to do a great deal of business. Gardner, who is a host of friends in Cleveland, do not too greatly surprised if Gardner announces, either before he leaves Asheville or after he gets back to Cleveland, that his choice for the job of leading the Indians is the "Vermont schoolmaster."

THE American Association magnates, who are holding their annual meeting at Asheville, N. C., have shown their appreciation of the services rendered by Tom Hickey, as president of their league by voting him a salary increase of $2,000, bringing his yearly stipend up to $10,000. He was also re-elected for a three-year term. The Association schedule meeting will be held in Chicago next week.

THURSDAY night at Columbus, Ohio, Klondike, light heavyweight champion of the world, will defend his title against Ira Dorn, the Salt Lake City wrestler, who has been dumping the 175-pound limit with regularity the past few months. Charlie Lehman, the Milwaukee wrestler who was at Marion, Monday, thinks that Dorn has an excellent chance to dump the man with four hands.

Incidentally, the rumor around places where sport fans are wont to gather has it that Lehman's visit is the forerunner of the return of wrestling to Marion. If the game does come back here, and is run in the same manner that it is being conducted in Columbus and other cities where the hippodrome is barred, and where the wrestlers are forced to wrestle or go without a share of the purse, Marion fans will enjoy some real sport.

Lehman, if he appears here, will show Marion lovers of the mat game a different article from the rehearsed act which killed the game here years ago. He has met and defeated some of the best middleweights and light heavyweights in the game, and in case of a good prospect for a shot at the title.

IT remained for the Chicago Cubs to take equal suffrage into the administration of a big league baseball club. Other teams have been owned by women, but they usually hired a man to run the business for them. But the Cubs have just elected a woman secretary of the club, Miss Margaret Donahue, who has been connected with the club in clerical capacities for about 12 years. Her election was made at the annual meeting of the board of directors recently.

REFEREE DUNLAP, who officiated at the Steam Shovel-Wesleyan game Tuesday night, seems to interpret the rules to suit himself. Some of the fouls he called looked like drawing the line too fine. And he was not playing for the home crowd. Most of the foul decisions which seemed too close to the letter of the law were called on the Shovel players.

JOHNNY Mauterich, who was a star with the Michigan Wolverines a few years ago, was coach of the Oklahoma Aggies the last two years. Last year his team finished last in the Missouri Valley conference, and in the first game this year was defeated by Johnny's Alma Mater, 42 to 3. However, they went to the top of the conference standing later in the season, losing no conference game and tying Oklahoma University in the final game of the season.

CHICAGO likes punishment. Already the South Park Board, which controls the stadium in Soldiers' Field, is bidding for a return of the Army-Navy football game. The expense of staging the game this year is said to have been $200,000, and the board intimates that this expense can be cut considerably, and the seating capacity can be enlarged so as to handle a much larger crowd.

Representative Britten, who was instrumental in bringing this year's game to the Windy City, has started to pull strings that will insure the service classic going to the west every other year.

CRICKET is a game which does not appeal to the average baseball fan, and Americans are wont to call it a sleepy game. However, there were enough enthusiasts for the game in England to pay $200,000 for the privilege of watching the recent test matches between England and Australia. There were five matches, and the average paid attendance was $60,000. Of this amount, the Australian players got $20,000.

Ohio Wesleyan Defeats Shovel Quintet, 44 to 33

Dairies Ready for Game With Famous Capital City Kinnears Here Thursday

Some of Country's Greatest Athletes To Appear with Visitors on Star Auditorium Floor Thursday, When Columbus Quintet Meets Isaly Dairymen

EVERY man in the lineup of the Columbus Kinnears, who are to appear in the Star Auditorium Thursday against Isaly Dairies, has at one time been a by-word among sport fans of this country.

Mel Shaw, Johnny Miner, Deacon Lynch, Chic Harley, Pete Stinchcomb, Bob Shea, Andy Nemenseck and others are included in the list of players carried by the Kinnears, one of the most famous cage outfits in the United States.

When Isaly Dairies tackle the Kinnears on the home floor at 8 o'clock Thursday night, they will take on the best visiting team to appear on the Star Auditorium court this season. The Kinnears will play basketball and they will play hard.

The Dairies are all set for the big battle. Coach Doug Torrence will probably send the regular lineup into the fray as the starting whistling blows and will make a few substitutions. Appleget, Minard, and Minard will fill the pivot position, and Perry and Tchanne will take their stand at forwards. Miller will probably break into the game before the half.

Better Team

The Dairies will meet team Thursday night, which plays a brand of basketball about three times better than that displayed by the tired Fountain Drug five last week. Isaly has little trouble in taking the tilt last Wednesday because there was no reason why they should not drop the ball in at will. Tomorrow night they will work for every basket and when they sink one through the bucket, it will be well earned.

The odds are in favor of the Kinnears if they appear with their regular lineup. The Columbus quintet has been playing for several weeks while the local men have met only three opponents. The Kinnears have not yet lost a game while Isaly dropped the first contest to Lorain on the latter's floor.

However, whatever the odds either way, whatever basketball game at the Star Auditorium Thursday night will provide plenty of excitement and entertainment for the most particular fan in Marion or any other city.

Midway Aces

The Midways will meet the East Side Aces in the preliminary round at 7:15, Thursday night. The Midways have had little difficulty so far this season in knocking off all comers but Thursday night the "knocking off" won't come so easy.

Both teams are natural rivals and both are equipped with some of the best high school stars of Marion. Buddy Compton of Wittenberg, coach of the Harding High basketball team, will referee the contest. Baldy has had charge of the last two games.

CONTINUE FIGHT ON DRAFT CLAUSE

Minor League Baseball Men Urge Change in Phrase

Asheville, N. C., Dec. 8.—A handful of minor league magnates today served notice on the baseball convention that they will continue to fight for some change in the draft clause embodied in the major-minor agreement.

Unqualified endorsement of Judge E. M. Landis' administration, an commissioner was held by Walter Morris, secretary of the Dallas Club, who declared that the reelection of Landis would mean a continuation of the draft clause which he denounced as "highly objectionable."

"I favor reelection of Judge Landis," said Morris, "but I am sick and tired of the draft rule and some relief is necessary."

The resolution endorsing Judge Landis was sent to the resolutions committee.

An interesting part of Jack's monologue is to the effect that Tunny could beat either Carpenter or Firpo, but that Willard or Brennan would beat Gene.

Tunny more to abolish baseball pools when Ed Barrow, business manager of the New York Yankees, plotted the heavy co-operation of that club in the move to stamp out this evil. It is said that the Yankees maintain a special force of men at the new Stadium whose sole duty is to watch for gamblers. Scores of men caught making and receiving bets have been blacklisted at the Yankees park, and raids on better there is a regular occurrence. In one afternoon last summer 18 arrests were made.

MUTUALS DEFEAT BRADLEY DRUGS; CYCLES WIN TWO

Bradleys Lose Chance To Tie Dugans for Lead

Bradley Drugs lost a chance to tie Dugans for first place in the National Bowling League when they dropped two games to Midland Mutuals last night. In the closing matches of the fourth National League round, Motorcycles took two from Bentz Tires, dropping them out of a tie for third place.

The Mutuals won the first contest from the Drugs by a 24 point margin but lost by a large number of pins in the second game. In the final contest they defeated Bradleys 884 to 720.

Motorcycles took the first and third games with Bentz Tires but failed to win the second tilt.

Stewart and Schuler were largely responsible for the Mutuals' victory. Stewart was high scorer in a single game when he rolled 207 point while Schuler was high man for the match with 696 pins. Lantz led the Drugs with 199 points and a total of 517 pins for the match.

Koons was high scorer for Motorcycles, rolling 196 in the final game. Mettill's total of 549 was high for the match. R. Burnette starred for Bentz Tires, bowling 202, 224 and 102 respectively in the three games.

College Five Victors in Opening Contest on New Steam Shovel Gym Court

Win Game Featured by Flashes of Brilliant Basketball and Inconsistent Playing on Part of Steam Shovels; Large Crowd Witnesses Game

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEB
Sports Editor, The Star

In a game replete with flashes of brilliant basketball, Ohio Wesleyan cagers of Delaware last night defeated the Steam Shovel independent five 44 to 33 in the first tilt of the season on the new Shovel gym.

Not until the last few minutes was the outcome of the battle evident, when, equipped with a lineup of all fresh men, the visitors ran wild against the tiring local quintet and dropped in the buckets that cinched the victory.

Playing inconsistent basketball while their opponents displayed a smooth working offense, the Steam Shovels would first lag behind and then with a sudden thrilling spurt would rapidly climb to within a few points of the visitors, only to again let up when they were within striking distance of a lead.

It was these sudden comebacks that saved the game from being a complete "top" for the Shovels and it was the quarts that brought the large crowd to its feet in exciting moments of play.

Stage First Comeback

After tagging the Wesleyan crew during the greater share of the first period, the Shovels broke loose and staged their first comeback of the game, climbing to within two points of the visitors as the whistle blew for the end of the quarter. The score stood 11 to 9 as the second quarter got under way.

Playing against five fresh men thrown into the lineup by Coach Ray Detrick of Wesleyan, the Shovel cagers dropped further behind their opponents in the second quarter and displayed the poorest offense and defense shown at any time in the contest. Wesleyan led 20 to 13 at the half.

First Stringers Again

The first stringers again shoved into the game for Ohio Wesleyan during the third quarter, but failed to make any consistent headway against the Shovel defense. In the meantime the locals' offensive play functioned better than at any other period of the contest and the game in general reached a thrilling climax.

When the quarter ended the Shovels were still tagging seven points behind the college crew, hanging on the tail end of a 32 to 25 score. But the fast floor work and basket shooting exhibited during the period had brought hope into the hearts of the Shovel fans.

Uses Fresh Team

Then again Coach Detrick rushed in his second stringers and even third string men who were fresh and untiring while the Shovels faced a bleak situation with only one new man, Worden, in the lineup with two minutes to play and the score standing 41 to 28. Pugh, steam Shovel center, took it upon himself to stage the last spurt for victory. He dropped in two field goals and was fouled on both occasions. He counted one out of four chances from the foul line, adding another point to the four recorded by the field goals, and brought the score to within 11 points of Wesleyan as the gun cracked for the end of the game.

"Baldy" Goes Big

The excellent work of "Baldy" Compton, who was assigned to the tough job of guarding Jack Lammie, captain and star forward of the Ohio Wesleyan five, was one of the features of the game. Lammie made but three field goals and a free throw. One of the baskets was the result of a long arched shot from the center of the floor and other followed a "boost." "Baldy" fouled Lammie only once during the entire fray, and in addition to his splendid guarding, led his teammates in looping the ball through the hoop when he counted four field goals.

Pugh Stars

Pugh ranked next in the line of stars for the Shovel team, playing a great floor game and accounting for ten points credited to the locals. Bacon was unable to connect in the first half but got his shooting eye in the final portion of the game in time to make two field goals and a free throw before being taken out of the contest on personal fouls. Dewey Polyer, Ward and Worden also deserve credit. Ward took the position of Bub Wilson, who was unable to get here for the game.

Berno and Roth, alternating at right forwards for the visitors, led the Wesleyan quintet in scoring. Lammie was too closely guarded to respond. Eddie Blicke exhibited a great guard game. The Wesleyan team as a whole worked smoothly from start to finish while the Shovels faced a bleak situation.

MICKEY WALKER FACES UNIVERSE WITH CLEAN BILL

His Title Given O. K. by Illinois Boxing Commission

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Mickey Walker, the "Jersey Jailer," faced the universe today with a clean bill of health as middleweight boxing champion of the world.

His title, won from Deacon Tiger Flowers of Atlanta, Ga., here last Friday night on the decision of Referee Benny Yanger, was given the official O. K. of the Illinois Boxing Commission at its weekly session yesterday.

The aromatic decision went to the commission laundry on application of Walk Miller, Flowers' manager, who asked for a reversal of Yanger's award on the grounds that it unjustly deprived Flowers of his lucrative title.

A large majority of the 20,000 persons who saw the fight agreed with Miller's contention.

In upholding the verdict of the man they had appointed to supervise the proceedings, the boxing solons agreed: No Collision.

That there was no collusion or crookedness on the part of the referee—Benny Yanger—and that this commission is of the opinion that he gave his decision in this contest as he saw it and in accordance with the rules as promulgated and adopted by this commission under the state law. However, to prevent a recurrence of this situation, the commission stated that after Jan. 1, decisions will be rendered by two judges and a referee, a system that has met with approval in New York and Pennsylvania.

Walk Miller was present when the verdict of the commission was announced. He took the decision in much the same spirit that Flowers took it last Friday night—with a show of good sportsmanship.

"While I am disappointed with the finding of the commission, I feel they have exerted every effort to right the injustice that has been done in depriving Flowers of his title. The rules do not permit reversing a decision."

BICYCLE RACES POPULAR

Public interest in six-day racing shows that while the bicycle may have lost its position as a popular means of transportation and recreation, it certainly has not lost in favor as a popular means of providing entertainment.

All that hinders some imaginative ones from writing fiction is laziness. It's hard work.

"Where—Quality Rules."

Yes,
Different

Cigarettes are cigarettes, many people think, until they get acquainted with Lucky Strikes. Then they appreciate the difference.

That's because Lucky Strike tobacco—the world's finest Turkish and domestic—are subjected to a costly extra process, toasting. If judged only for their tobaccos, Lucky Strikes would rank as the finest

But the added refinement of toasting gives them an individuality all their own. Lucky Strike smokers enjoy:

1. Finer Flavor. Toasting for 45 minutes develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos.
2. Smoothness. Toasting for 45 minutes removes all "bite" and harshness, hence never any throat irritation.
3. Freshness. Then the tobacco is suddenly chilled. This seals the flavor in and insures constant freshness.

Thus the toasting process is an addition. It adds a unique and distinct improvement to a cigarette that has already been made from the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. It is the reason millions prefer Lucky Strikes.

Only Two County Cage Games Booked For Friday

Waldo And Kirkpatrick To Tangle While Morral Boys Invade Agosta For Battle

Caledonia Boys Lead in League Race in East Section, While LaRue Boys Head West Section; Caledonia Girls Head East League, Morral Leads West

ONLY two Marion County High School basketball league games are billed for Friday, Dec. 10, a survey of the season schedule revealed today. In the east, Waldo will journey to Kirkpatrick for the second game of the season while in the west Morral will invade Agosta.

Waldo, having already suffered one league defeat this season at the hands of Caledonia, will make an effort to redeem itself in the skirmish with Kirkpatrick. Both boys' and girls' teams will meet on the Kirkpatrick floor.

It will be the first contest of the year for Kirkpatrick boys and girls and the teams are confident of turning in a victory over Waldo.

In the west, another defeated team will make an attempt to redeem itself when Morral leads take on Agosta on the Agosta floor. Morral suffered defeat last week at the hands of LaRue while the girls' team was winning its game. Agosta has no girls' outfit so Morral girls will get a rest Friday night.

Morral boys are equipped with a good aggression but were up against a stiff back when they met LaRue. They are even on the game with Agosta.

Two Games Last Week
Only two league games were played last week among schools of Marion County. In the eastern section, Caledonia girls and boys won 15 to 3 and 9 to 1, respectively, from Waldo. In the west, LaRue boys defeated Morral, 25 to 13, and Morral girls downed LaRue, 9 to 5, in a hotly contested fracas.

The other games in the eastern league scheduled last week were postponed.

FOUNDRY CAGERS WIN PRELIMINARY

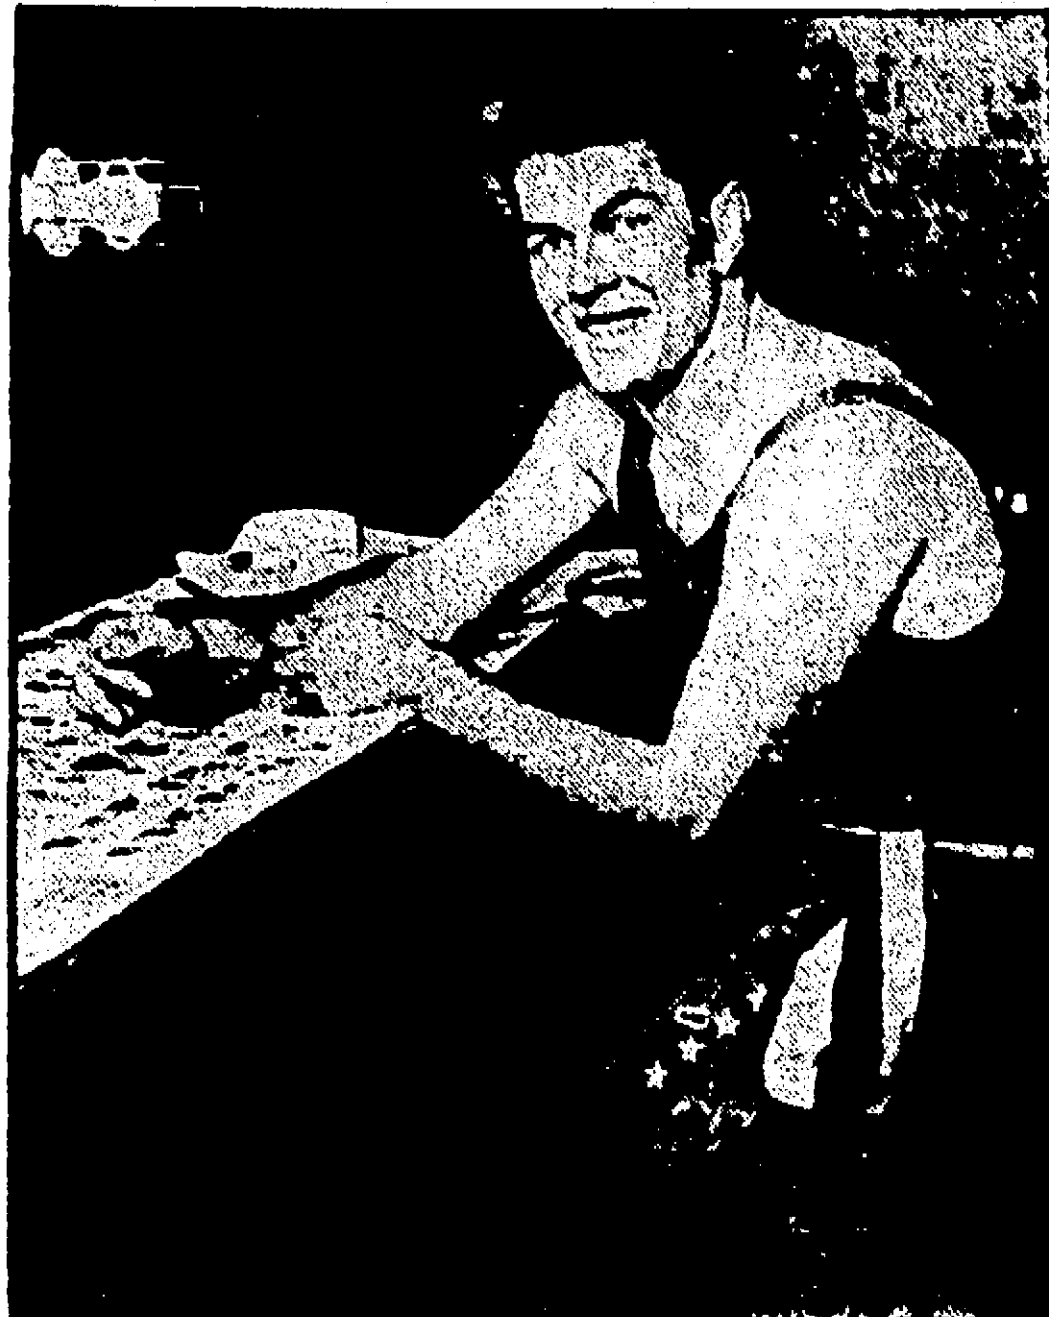

Defeat Electricians in Thrilling Contest Last Night

Foundrymen last night defeated Electricians in the second game of the Steam Shovel Basketball League, 32 to 11, in a thrilling preliminary game to the Steam Shovel-Ohio Wesleyan league.

The half ended 5 to 4 with Electricians in the lead but the undaunted Foundry five staged a great comeback in the final minutes and downed their opponents by the slight margin of a single point.

The final games of the first round in the Steam Shovel League will be played Friday night when Machinists and Apprentices will battle on the Steel gym prior to the volleyball sessions. The Machinist-Apprentice game was to have been played Monday but it was postponed.

LATZO-SIMONICH TILT MAY CROWN ANOTHER CHAMP

Pete Latzo May Lose Walter Title, Says Walsh

New York, Dec. 8.—With pugilistic titles changing hands faster than a white chip in a poker game, folks are wondering whether the walter crown is going to be taken for a sleigh ride tonight.

Pete Latzo, who won the title by knocking Mickey Walker-Jack Kearns, Inc., for a couple goals, exchanges scissor hands with Joe Simonich over in Newark, which is situated in a state where decisions are as rare as left hand jigsaws in Dvinsk. In other words, they don't have 'em.

All of which augurs well for Latzo as this Simonich person, who hails from the wide open spaces of Butte, packs a mean wallop and some figure he can outpunch the Seranton miner. But as matters stand he must produce a sleep-producer to join the new array of champions.

Latzo at present is somewhat of a mystery. Some time ago he injured one of his meat hooks so severely that the story was going the rounds that he would never fight again. His hand swelled up to twice its normal size and an operation had to be performed to save it. He says he's a k. now, but that routine to be seen. However, if you take much stock in past performance, don't be surprised if a new walter champion is crowned. Remember that Dempsey lost to Tunney, Greb lost to Flowers, Walker lost to Latzo, Joe Dundee lost to Eddie Roberts, Kid Kaplan lost to Billy Wallace.

In each instance the loser was the favorite to win. If there is such a thing among box-fighters, the Latzo-Simonich tilt will only be a 10-stanza affair, although 12 rounds are allowed in the state made something or other by the Hall-Mills trial. So Pete will have to be something less than the well known hollow shell if he is to join the has-beens.

But then queer pranks have been played lately in the boxing game. The less you know, the easier it is most times, to pick winners.

It is easy to praise—and safe; but readers do not want praise to the extent of more than 50 per cent; and that is nearly always a fair average of the praise deserved.

If the world's ways don't please you, a good method of shutting most of it out is to engage in farming. Few recognize this advantageous phase of country life.

CENTRAL JUNIORS GO TO CALEDONIA

Local Five Will Tie Up with Caledonia Friday

Central Junior High cagers will journey to Caledonia, Friday night, for a mix-up with the high school team of that village.

Central Junior met defeat last week at the hands of the Alumni in a game featured by two overtime periods. Caledonia last week had little difficulty in downing the Waldo outfit and feels confident that it will repeat the act Friday night.

The Central Junior quintet is composed of all new men but has shown remarkable development during the last few weeks. The game Friday night will be the first of the season out of this city and the locals hope to establish a record "on the road" as well as at home.

Coach Broholm has been putting his proteges through some stiff workouts since the Waldo game and is prepared for a great battle.

Pleasant Township Will Dedicate New Gym Friday Night With Green Camp Tilt

Pleasant Township School will dedicate its new gym Friday night when the boys' and girls' basketball teams meet the Green Camp quintets in the opening game of the season for both schools.

The new gym has just been completed and is in first class shape for athletic work. It has a playing floor of 38 by 60 feet, with balcony and stage accommodations for spectators. The floor is lined for basketball, indoor baseball, and volleyball and presents probably the best court found among county schools.

The court has been well surfaced.

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

Just night that I did not earn yesterday. It was thinking the morning whilst I was let down by the rope in his hand when I had carried out the shock down the baseburner I out the ashes and made a cookstove and mixed the grates feed and fed them and them all but the horse, and the milk and was eating my I said.

"Beginning as much as a hired days." They all looked up and my father said, "Who is as much as a hired man?" Nobody, I am just earning that everyone but him laughing said, "That isn't all you are doing you aren't getting. You are your board and clothes." I was my uncles and grandfathers made over but I thought I said so.

Free is almost ruined, but he me. The ground and ice and and is pretty rough and I was telling that I could in the school in a wheel and Nibs said I couldn't, so at the end of the yard and I new hands and Peanuts held the handles of a wheelbar.

and we were just going to start, and Feeble hollered: "Oh, gimme a ride!" So Nibs told her to get on and he would ride her across the yard before the trees, so she got on his back, and they started. And Feeble kept telling the Lost Bag of Tripe to go faster, so he stepped on it and all at once Nibs' arms gave out and the Lost Bag of Tripe pushed his face quite a ways over the ice and dirt before he could stop; and Nibs jumped Feeble off upside down and tried to heat the Lost Bag of Tripe to the school door and he was running and yelling for the teacher, but he beat Nibs to the door. Nibs tried to kick him but he jumped just an inch too far so that the kick went off in the air and Nibs hit on the back of his head. So both sides of his head is sore, and he is sore too. Feeble looked crossed at him and put one finger in the corner of her mouth and Nibs looked at her, but no gentleman can kick a lady, not and he polite he can't.

My grandfather learnt Annabelle Lee to jump off the table in his arms, so today she tried to jump from the top of the stairs into my arms. She did not jump very far, but my aunt jumped upstairs to catch her, and she rode my aunt's stummick the rest of the way down. My aunt did not think it was cute. I am surprised.

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

Just as Uncle Wiggily hopped out of his hollow stump bungalow, his little rabbit friend, Dotie, came to him.

"You're going to the store to get me a head as you promised?" asked Dotie.

"Yes, I am," answered the rabbit.

"But first I am going to the hollow stump school!"

"I know your lessons?" asked Dotie.

"Of course," Uncle Wiggily laughed. "But of course he didn't have to go to school more, being rather an old hand."

There are plenty of things for a rabbit, just the same, my dear. As to his wife as he hopped along, Uncle Wiggily had paid more attention to his lessons when he was a child. But now he was going to do now is to stop and look at Baby Hunt's heads are all the same.

Uncle Wiggily's horse chestnut necktie was as white as Mary's little lamb. He had the lady rabbit and Uncle Wiggily and he had, for as I told you, he had made a necklace of the seven nuts for the little rabbit child, and something happened as you may remember.

Dotie was very proud of her chestnut necktie - not too proud, you understand, but just proud enough, and Uncle Wiggily wanted to be sure she hadn't lost it. That's what was to stop him from going to the hollow stump school.

But no sooner was the rabbit gentleman front than out came running the lady mouse teacher, quite excited and a little, it seemed.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Is the school on fire, Miss Mouse?"

"Oh, no," she squeaked in answer. "It's poor Dotie Flufftail's fleece is covered with beggar ticks, with burdock seeds and all manner of brambles. I'll be going for Dr. Possum."

"The little lamb girl isn't ill, is she?" asked Mr. Possum.

"No, not exactly ill," said the Lady Mouse. "But you should see the wool on her back! It is full of stickers, and the children and I have spent half the morning trying to pull them out. There are so many left that we shall never get any lessons done if we have to keep pulling them. So I thought I'd see if Dr. Possum had any medicine he could use to get rid of the ticks."

"No medicine will do that," said Uncle Wiggily. "But here is something that will, and from a bush near the school he picked a teazel. 'I will get the ticks from Dotie's wool with this,' he said. 'But first tell me how the ticks get in.'"

"Oh, Dotie and Willie, her brother, are playing tag on the way to school," said the Lady Mouse, "and he chased Dotie into a bramble patch. He didn't mean to, but you know how boys are. And being a little lamb girl, Dotie's wool caught and held every tick that brushed against. There are over a dozen ticks, beggar ticks and burdock seeds. The poor child's fleece is a most of them! I wish you could see her."

"I'll take a look," offered Uncle Wiggily, carrying the teazel into the Hollow Stump School. And when he saw Dotie Flufftail he said: "Oh, you poor child!" And Dotie bleated:

"What are you going to do to me?"

"I won't hurt you," promised Uncle Wiggily. "I will just gently pull the stickers from your wool with this teazel." Now a teazel is a sort of big burr itself, as large as twenty burdock burrs. And on the end of each spine of the teazel is a natural little hook like the one mother uses to crochet with.

Holding the teazel by its long stem, Uncle Wiggily used it to clean all the ticks from Dotie's wool. The teazel, once soft and green had become hard and dry in winter. And soon the little

Out came running the lady mouse teacher.

Jackie Bow Wow looked out and barked:

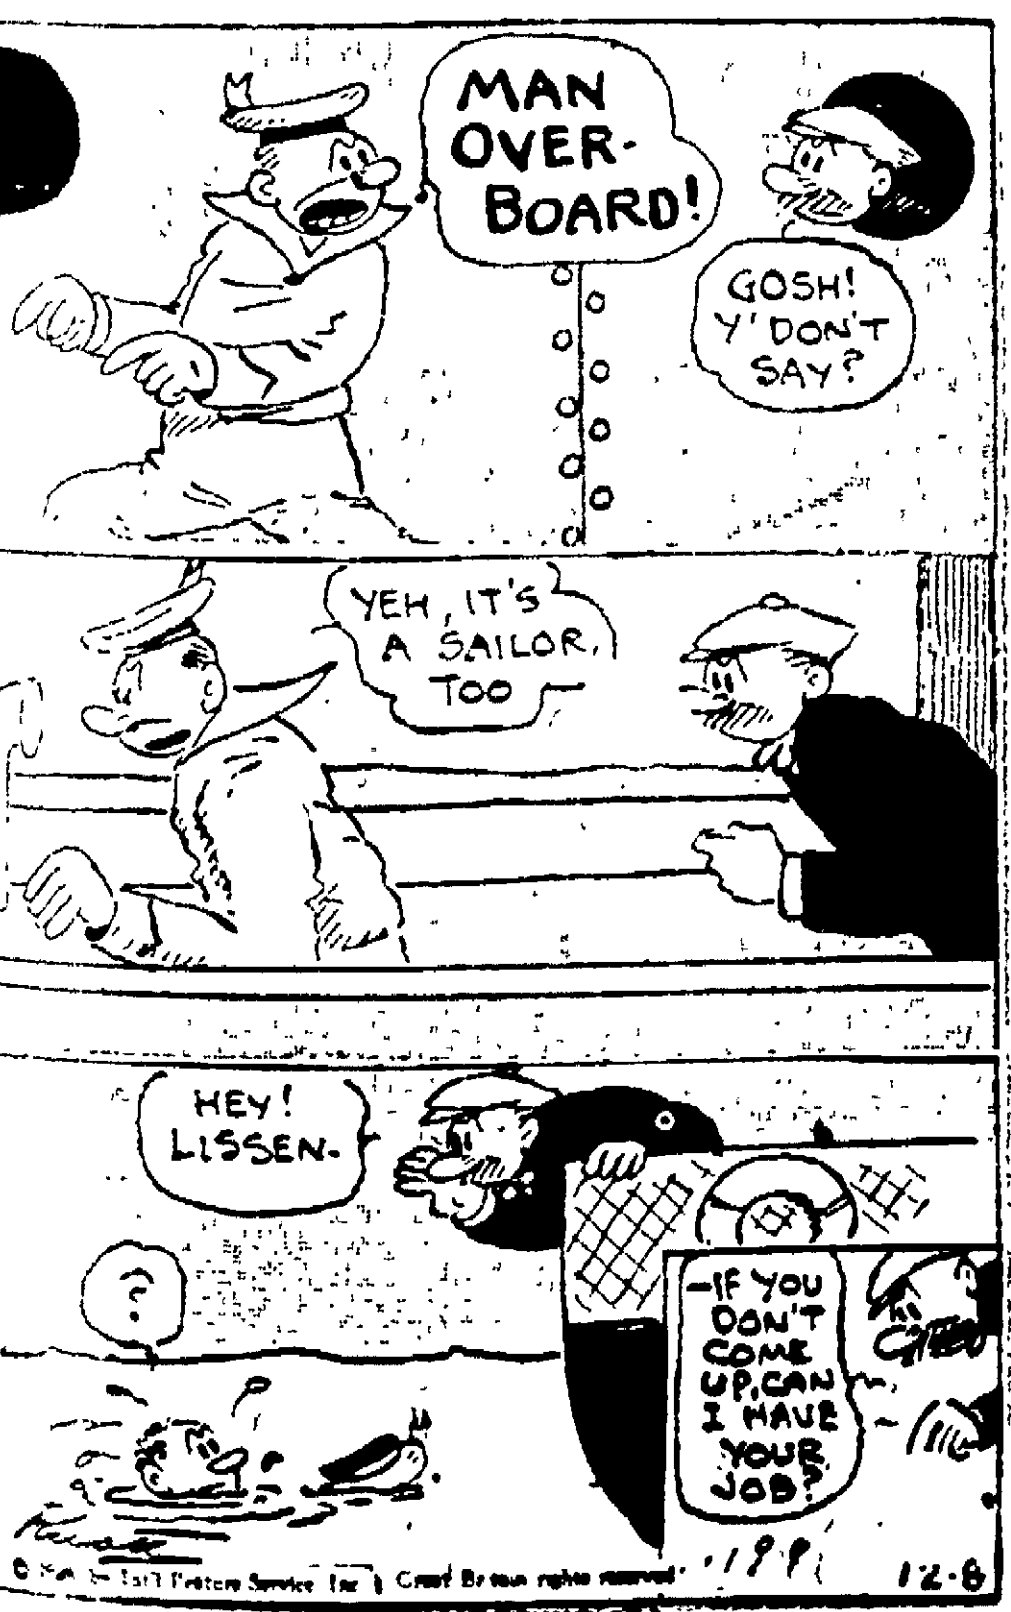

"Oh, the Wozzie Wolf was there, waiting to come in, and when you tossed out the teazel, Uncle Wiggily, you tossed him out the door. It was the wolf who yelled - 'Ough!'"

"Has he run away?" asked the bunny gentleman, and Jackie said the bad chap had. So everything came out all right. And if the ice pick doesn't make a hole in the sugar bowl so all the salt runs out to play with the pepper, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's red box.

NO POSSIBILITY OF TAX CUTTING, LEADERS SAY

Only Coolidge Recommendation Likely To Be Heeded Is "Don't Rock Boat"

Washington, Dec. 8.—While congress accorded only a lukewarm reception to the multitude of proposals contained in President Coolidge's 12,000-word message, it seemed fairly certain today that his chief recommendation will be carried out.

That is his admonition to congress not to rock the boat. Comparatively few of the recommendations Mr. Coolidge made stand any chance of enactment at the present session. The opposition within and without his own party is too great. But just as the partisan scrapping will prevent accomplishment of his program, so will the same scrapping prevent enactment of the legislation sponsored by his opponents.

No Tax Measures.—Hence a substantial part of the 12 weeks of life left to the sixtieth congress—and no rocking of the boat.

Leaders were agreed today that there exists no possibility of tax legislation. This applies equally to Mr. Coolidge's recommendation for a rebate on next year's income taxes, and to the alternative Democratic proposal for a sweeping cut in corporate, automobile and gift taxes.

The opinion is almost universal that after sharp fighting, March 4 will roll around with nothing accomplished, congress will expire and the huge treasury surplus of nearly $100,000,000 will go automatically into the debt retirement fund.

As with taxes so with other of the president's major recommendations. The farm bloc considers his proposals

Rum Row Trying To Stage Comeback for Christmas, Eight Ships Off New York

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Rum row is trying to stage a Christmas comeback.

Reports to coast guard headquarters today disclosed that six or eight foreign rum ships are lying about 200 miles off New York with large cargoes of choice wet goods.

Airplane scouts and destroyers are operating off the coast radiating the exact location of the hummers. As fast as their positions are changed on the coast guard "war map," patrol boats are dispatched to remain as escorts for the rum ships as long as they stay in coastwise waters.

Bootleggers Behind.—Officials predicted that the sudden appearance of the rum fleet, which for many months consisted of merely a stray vessel or two, will be without serious effect and that the strength of the coast guard forces is sufficient to prevent landing of an appreciable amount of liquor for the thirty holiday trade. Every effort is being made to prevent contact with foreign ships from the shore. New York smugglers, representing big bootlegging syndicates, are said to be seeking contact with speed boats capable of doing a mile a minute.

All the bootleggers are described as far behind with their orders for choice stuff, although the supply of redistilled industrial alcohol under fence is adequate. High prices for the real article has made rum smuggling more profitable than for several years.

Decrease Shown.—Two years ago, 70 rum ships on agricultural relief as only "half way" meeting the situation. The bloc is going to have the McNary-Haugen bill, which Mr. Coolidge considers "price-fixing," or nothing. The betting is the bloc will not get the McNary-Haugen bill.

were off New York with cargoes amounting to over 1,000,000 cases. Reports from other smuggling centers along the Florida and Gulf coasts showed activity both of rum runners and the coast guard. Government bases in Florida have captured 14 rum ships since the hurricane; smugglers are taking long chances at the mouth of the Mississippi River to land their Christmas stock.

The values of smuggled liquor into the country for this year is estimated at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, foreign prices. For 1924 and 1925, the annual smuggling of intoxicants was valued at approximately $10,000,000 in the Commerce Department survey of "invisible trade."

Actual trial date will be set for after the holidays.

STARVING BEARS RAID FARMS

Hibbing, Minn.—Driven from the woods by cold weather that has reduced their supply of food, bears are making raids on farms in this vicinity. A farmer living west of Hibbing is the latest victim. He awoke one morning to see a black bear, standing erect, carrying away a 3-month-old calf.

DAYTON'S "MYSTERY"

Police Won't Tell Why Cleveland Has Been Arrested

Dayton, Dec. 8.—Ralph Thompson, 34, giving Cleveland as his home town, is locked up in central police station today and is the central figure in a deep, dark mystery which the police refuse to explain.

The prisoner was arrested by detectives armed with sawed-off shot guns at 8:30 o'clock last night. A man with Thompson escaped in the excitement occasioned by shooting. Thompson is supposed to be linked up with a grip of burglar tools, police say they recovered, but that is all that is known of the case.

Think twice when you hear it; and let at least your first thought be, "Don't believe it."
